The quality of life of every family, including the Roma, also depends on the approach to study. The quality of life depends directly on the level of education. In the current era of digitization and automation, those who have not underestimated their studies or have at least completed secondary school will find employment in the labor market. If Roma parents want their children to be better off in the future than they do, they must do everything possible to ensure that their children receive an education that is key to getting a good job. For Roma parents, quality education for their children must be a priority. The biggest mistake is that in many Roma families, parents do not consider education important. During the first complications at school, he resigns and they are not enough support for their children. they often tell them, you don't need education, you don't need school, I will take care of you. However, education must be a priority. Every obstacle can be overcome, even for the poorest children there are various social scholarships, a well-oriented student can get it very easily. I recommend to all Roma, who certainly care about the future of their children, to motivate them from an early age to a positive approach to obtaining a quality education. It's not just about money, in most cases it's about motivation and moral support.
